LBP Publishing Services

If you're an aspiring or published author or an organization in need of publishing your own books or manuals, please take a few moments to learn about what Latino Book Publisher can do for you.

Latino Book Publisher (LBP) designs and produces custom book covers and text interiors for literary works of various genres — professionally, accurately, timely, and with marketability.

LBP is a publishing service provider formed to meet the demands of amateur and seasoned writers alike, who seek to retain financial and creative control as well as the rights of their literary works.

LBP recognizes that many writers have been underserved and overlooked for a very long time by publishing houses because their work "does not represent the mass population."

As a Latino publisher we aim to support the storytellers of our culture, to remember and document the oral history of our people, and to not forget what we ourselves have experienced through life.

We also realize the amount of literary talent available in the Latino community. Therefore, LBP hopes to be a bridge between writer and publisher, by providing a line of professional book design and production services.

LBP will walk you through the process of converting your writings into a beautiful, professionally designed, and marketable book.
